*“For surely I know the plans I have for you, says the LORD,
plans for your welfare and not for harm,
to give you a future with hope.” (Jeremiah 29:11, NRSV)*

As I write this, we have just returned Coffee Fellowship on Sunday mornings. Now admittedly, I have a love-love relationship with coffee, having at least a half dozen contraptions for making the stuff readily reachable from the counters and cabinets in my kitchen. But as much as I REALLY like coffee, the coffee itself is NOT my most favorite part of restarting Coffee Fellowship on Sunday mornings. My favorite part is the fellowship part. For being the Body of Christ takes for its members rubbing elbows in community ... and doing so while holding a cup of coffee is one of the great ways of doing so.

Our plan is to have coffee ready before Impact Service, and be still available following Sanctuary Service. But we are hoping that the time between the two services will be the principle focus for most people, thereby increasing our ability to “rub elbows” with one another. By the way, serving on the Coffee Fellowship Team rotation is a great way to substantially contribute to the vitality of our church. Please consider if the Holy Spirit just might be stirring within you to join that service opportunity, and contact me thru the office if so.

While on the topic of fellowship, I am excited to share with you our Easter Season plans for a Sunday evening gathering time aimed at personal welfare and financial wellbeing ... and yes, food is in the mix. There is absolutely no doubt that our amazing God wants nothings less for us than our best wellbeing—and that includes every aspect of our lives. Our Easter Season sermon series is a practical exploration into this truth entitled, “Saving Grace.” But as well, to celebrate both the coming of Spring and the return of more fellowship opportunities, we are sponsoring a church-wide study on financial wellbeing by the same name, which will take place the evenings of April 24, May 1, 15, and 22 (4 Sundays with a break for Mother’s Day), and will include focused material for all ages. We will begin each gathering with a meal and table fellowship, then watch a short video and discuss that week’s study material in table groups.

Our hope is that everyone will come away with practical ideas and tools for increasing one’s personal financial wellness. There is no cost, there will not be any sales pitches, and there will be no requests to share personal information. We are simply sharing practical and proven information and tools that every one of us can make use of to gain more personal control over money rather than money controlling us. We also hope that you may know of someone in your life circle that you will invite to join you and benefit from this 4-week time of fellowship and learning. So, stay tuned for how you can register for this time of celebration, fellowship, and learning.

We are coming out of a couple of really tough years, years when so many of us have had to make substantive sacrifices. But through it all, God has been steadfast with God’s plans for our best welfare and the ultimate protection from harm. God has travelled with us every step, to give us a future with hope. Thank You, God!

Blessings and peace to you, and those close to you ... Pastor Bob

Welcome, Angel Tan!

Angel Tan is a classically trained pianist who will join our staff as the Chancel Choir Accompanist/Staff Pianist.. She has extensive experiences in playing for church services and directing choirs. Teaching piano lessons and playing the piano are her passions. Her credentials include degrees in piano performance and music education. Besides doing musically related activities, Angel enjoys spending time with her dog Benji. She is looking forward to working with Marcia Van Oyen and the Chancel Choir to help enhance the worship experience at the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth.

WORSHIP THOUGHTS

“I need to worship because without it I can forget that I have a big God beside me and live in fear.

I need to worship because without it I can forget his calling and begin to live in a spirit of self-preoccupation.

I need to worship because without it I lose a sense of wonder and gratitude and plod through life with blinders on.

I need to worship because my natural tendency is toward self-reliance and stubborn independence.”

- John Ortberg

Let's face it, we need money. Helping our kids learn how to use it wisely will set them up for success and help them avoid some of the common traps young adults fall into. When we say Saving Grace is a church wide study, we mean it! There is not an official kids and youth book that goes with it, but we have some materials that we think supplement what Saving Grace teaches and we think they will help your kids get started.

Plan on joining us as a family starting April 24th for this church wide event.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

I am one of the over two million people who are playing the most popular online word game of 2022, Wordle. If you don't know what Wordle is, according to the article *What is Wordle? Here's How to Play 2022's Most Popular Word Game* by Emily Stedman it is an online 5-letter word game. Each day a new word is released and players have six attempts to guess what the word of the day is. During the guesses, tiles will change color to help players get the word. A grey letter means it isn't in today's word, whilst a yellow letter signals it is in the word but in the wrong position. Then there's the green letter which means it's in the word and in the right place."

I really like this game. My husband introduced me to the wonderful world of Wordle, my mom and my sister play, even my 13-year-old nephew occasionally plays. We have a little friendly competition to see who can solve the daily word in the least number of guesses. We even text each other after we solve it to let the others know how many guesses it took us to get it. Just four days ago, I solved the word on my second guess. I could not wait to text the others and let them know I was the most brilliant of them all.

That brings us to today. For the first time in my storied history of playing Wordle, I missed the word. Sure, some days I have come close to missing it. I may have even needed all six guesses, but I have never missed. Until today. And as I typed my final guess, I was so confident. I was sure I had it, until I didn't. Sending that text wasn't as fun as the one I sent four days ago.

I have been thinking a lot about what God might be asking me to lay down this Lenten season. I am working on decluttering and getting rid of excess around the house, but I knew there was likely something else, something internal God had in mind. Sometimes He shows us things that we don't necessarily want to see, that doesn't mean we don't need to see them.

I don't like to be reminded that every once in a while, pride has a way of sneaking in and becoming a problem for me. For as long as I can remember, my dad would tell me he was proud of me when I accomplished something. A good grade. Some achievement. At some point I began to long for that validation so I would try to do more, be better. I just wanted to hear those words and when I heard them it felt good. Somewhere along the way I learned that I could manifest those same feelings through other means, I could build my own pride. When I do this though, it always seems to end in a moment like today, where God humbles me. God is asking for access to some deep-rooted pride in my life. Who knew it would come to light through Wordle?

This is who God is though, He is not afraid of the ugly things that get in between us and Him. He's willing to meet us in our stuff, no matter what it is and pull us out of it but we have to be willing to be pulled out of it. We have to be willing to choose something different. The Lenten season is a perfect time for this. Ask yourself, what is keeping you from growing closer or deepening your relationship with God? Now ask yourself am I willing to do whatever it is I need to do to be closer to God? If you answer yes to that, do it. If you answer no, then ask if you really need to ask yourself why not? As you spend some time in prayer with these questions, expect God to show you the answers.

Sarah

TRANSFORMING EVANGELISM THE WESLEYAN WAY OF SHARING FAITH

Because of the more aggressive and confrontational tactics we hear about, evangelism has developed a bad connotation. Doors are shut hurriedly, phone calls end abruptly and emails left unanswered. After all, isn't this a task better handled by the pastor? Perhaps it's time to re-examine John Wesley's model of evangelism as a full, natural circle - where it's a communal beginning point rather than a solitary end. The central motive of authentic evangelism is: Having received a message that's made all the difference in our lives, we desire to share that message with others in the hope it will transform their lives as well.

Wesley models an evangelism that reaches out and welcomes, invites and nurtures, and speaks to both head and heart. "Evangelism is about relationship. How we are in relationship to God, who is able to transform us into new beings and how we are in relationship to our neighbor, whom we must love like ourselves."

Higher cost for gas, groceries and every item we purchase has placed a strain on our bank accounts as well as added stress and worry to our lives. What is your view on money? Is it good or bad? Do you control your money or does your money control you?

How do we, as people of faith, create healthy relationships with money and possessions? Is it possible to have peace and security in our finances during these turbulent times?

By participating in this 4 week CHURCH WIDE EVENT you will gain the tools and helpful strategies for achieving a sustainable financial life that can bring peace and joy!

Sharing these strategies with our children and youth will give them a strong and healthy perspective on money. It may be one of the greatest gifts we can give.

The Funeral Meal Ministry is looking to expand their list of volunteers.

This ministry provides a meal for families and friends following a memorial service or funeral and is served at the church.

If you are interested in setting tables, preparing beverages and serving, cleaning up or operating the dishwasher, please call Elsie Mae Trinka at 734-453-6187.

To all my church family,

I wanted to sincerely thank you all for the kind words and well wishes that you expressed to me these past recent weeks and during the reception for my retirement that we had during our recent reinstated coffee hour. It really means a lot to me. I have enjoyed working for the church these past eleven years and am looking forward as to what the next chapter will bring, Travel, Grandkids, and that extra cup of coffee in the morning for starters. I want to thank Staff/Parish for the delicious cake that was enjoyed by all and the love offering that was given to me by all of you, I feel truly blessed and honored by your generosity.

You all will still see me in church but just not on the clock. And if we miss a Sunday occasionally it's because Martha and I just might be doing "retired stuff". Many thanks to you all again and may God's blessings be with you all.

In service for him,
Phil Daigneau
